

LEAH ANESTOS

JUNIOR SOFTWARE ENGINEER

From an early age and throughout her entire professional journey, she has consistently been acknowledged as the go-to person for troubleshooting critical challenges, ranging from computer issues to recognizing ineffective strategies in the workplace. Both current and previous colleagues & supervisors, have utilized her exceptional ability to address diverse technology-related challenges with precision and efficiency, establishing her as the trusted point person for resolving issues promptly. Motivated by these experiences, and a desire to learn and complete new challenges, she transitioned to Software Engineering in 2023 to further develop her technical skills and contribute to impactful projects.
